Practice is an active habit — with someone else, with a sense of place, and with cadence.

What Action — discrete, repeatable.

Who with Practice is always about articulation and communication.

How often Consistency is everything.

Where All communication happens in a place.

Use the page below to name the practices you're building — existing ones you want to keep, and new ones you want to start.

[illegible]

Practices are living things. Revisit this page — cross things out, add things in, notice what actually held.
